RE: Transcon Bioremediation Project

Dear Mr. Urian:

I want to thank you for your participation in the bioremediation demonstration project at the former Transcon truck terminal in Toledo, Ohio. As you will recall, this project was an integral part of the State's effort to reclaim this abandoned property in order to make it again usable for continued economic development. From the outset, it was our intention to ask for company's to voluntarily donate their time, technology, and resources to this project to demonstrate bioremediation as an alternative remediation method at petroleum contaminated soil sites.

With your successful demonstration of your bioremediation approach we have been able to significantly lessen the cost of remediating this property. Realizing the restrictive time constraints that we were operating within we appreciate the time and effort that you provided in the successful completion of this demonstration project.

Again, thank you and your company for participating in this endeavor.

Sincerely,
